JULY BARGAINS

OFFERED BY THE

PEOPLE'S STORE

THIS WEEK.

We told you last week that we must sell goods. It is imperative for us to do so. We have to dispose of $40,000 worth of goods by the 15th of August. We never have failed in our expectations yet, for our forced prices are irresistible. Hence we cannot guarantee that the goods offered below will last the entire week. If you do not wish to be disappointed come early.

All qualities of laces sold under 12½c have been reduced to 5c. We expect they will last until Thursday evening.

Striped Linon de Inde, sold at 37c all season, now marked at 15c.

Lace striped "Udoras" (white Victoria lawns) selling at 37½c, now 20c.

Flannel "Carreau de Orgadie" sold at 35c, will be closed at 18c. One case only left.

Our entire line of Summer silks that we have sold all season at 65c, tumbled down to 39c.

All-wool Nun's vellings, Nun's cloth, albatross and crepes, that commanded $1 readily, descend to 65c.

Summer dress goods worth 20c will be sold for 7½c.

Hosiery department will sell ladies full finished hose, plain and silk decked at 25c, which you have been paying 50c for.

Ladies' underwear department will lead on silk-finished balbriggan vests long and short sleeves, 50c. Never sold less than $1.

Our gloves, in silk, lisle and cotton, have almost gone out of sight. For instance, silk mitts before the Fourth 75c, are now 45c. A splendid assortment of lisle thread gloves at 25c.

Boys' percale waists 25c, worth 50c.

Window shades, with fixtures complete, 49c.

Gents' Summer merino vests 15c. They will surprise you.

Our shoe department, always the cheapest in town, says it can undersell anybody by 20 per cent. That's doing a good deal of talking; sounds wild. But when you see ladies' toe slippers marked 75c that others call a sacrifice at $1.25, and children's tipped spring heel shoes for 88c, that others ask $1.50 for, while children's Newport Ties sell at 49c, others giving them away at $1, and ladies' shoes $1.25, worth $2, that kind of gives color to the tale.

Stare at These Prices! They're a Good Eye-Opener.

The Stutzman Improved Fruit Evaporators

Are for Sale and on Exhibition at the Storerooms of the

C. W. GIBSON COMPANY,

108, 110 and 112 North Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

And orchardists and farmers especially are invited to examine the machines and get Catalogues and prices. The Stutzman Evaporator is made of galvanized iron and hence is fire-proof. The Trays are wire gauze. There is nothing shoddy in its construction. It is more easily moved about than any other Evaporator in the market. This alone is of great advantage to the fruit dryer. In simplicity of construction and durability it stands, and in cheapness nothing of the kind can compete with it. Made in all sizes, from stove to large factory sizes. jun26

AMERICAN FRUIT EVAPORATOR!

The most practical and reliable Fruit Evaporator made. It gives unobstructed hot air currents ABOVE and BELOW all fruit, thus insuring evenness of drying and no spoiled fruit. Beware of infringements. THE AMERICAN is pre-eminently the fruit-raisers' machine. Its sizes grade from domestic to manufacturing wants. It makes the highest quality of work with ordinary care in handling. There is no need of making anything else. Though we approve a slight coat of sulphur, the AMERICAN is specially adapted for highest grades of unbleached work. It places fresh cut fruit first in highest and dryest heat; cures cut surfaces at once and keeps them dry, thereby setting and making permanent the color, and also thereby, as in broiling steaks, securing the highest quality in product. We place our experience in evaporating at the disposal of our customers. In some cases this gratuitous service is of more value than prices paid us for evaporators. Sold by

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Bronchitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary affections. Chronic bronchitis more often appears later in life. When a cold settles on the lungs the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of making his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength, and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearances of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs or chronic bronchitis.

In the later stages of the disease the mucous membrane of the larger bronchial tubes softens, while the smaller tubes and air cells of the lungs the mucous membrane becomes consumed and inflamed. There are air cavities or tubercles in the lungs, but merely a wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes and death takes place from obstruction of the bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the mucus which accumulates in the passages leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light straw or yellowish green. Oftentimes streaks of blood make their appearance in the mucus, and at times there is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus afflicted are liable to take cold, at which time the mucus becomes more free and freely, and it is not uncommonly the case that the patient dies in one of these attacks.

Humid bronchitis (from humor, to be moist), is so called from the profuse quantity of watery mucus the vessels throw from the air passages of the lungs. At times it becomes quite ropy, like the white of an egg. This form of the disease usually attacks old people.

DRY BRONCHITIS—This disease, the very opposite of the above, is a very common affection, and very many people who regard themselves quite healthy are to-day under its influence, and are slowly but surely becoming the victims of this treacherous complaint. This is the most insidious of all pulmonary diseases. There may at first be a slight, lacking cough, and an expectoration of a tinian-white mucus. And herein lies the danger. This mucus, finishing the air cells of the lungs, being difficult to raise, after a time becomes solidified, permanently obstructing portions of the lungs, causing shortness of breath and a feeling of oppression on the chest, particularly after exercise or on slight exertion. After a time the cough becomes more severe and frequent in its paroxysms, and as the shortness of breath increases, it almost assumes the character of asthma. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes and more and more thickened, which arises from the frequent fresh colds, and in patients of middle and fully years of age the terrible changes that have taken place, and the inevitable results that are to follow, are truly alarming to contemplate. And yet all the above diseases are quite curable if taken in time.

I have seen so many of these cases cured by inhalations that I do not consider any case hopeless until the disease has advanced to the chest and that both lungs are seriously involved, and even then our only hope is in the inhalations, which aids us in dissolving the mucus and in regenerating and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

THE reports from General Grant continue encouraging.

THE hog cholera is playing havoc in Merced, Mariposa, Tuolumne and Stanislaus counties.

THE sad insanity of Judge Clough, of San Francisco, will, it is feared, lead to legal complications, inasmuch as the validity of his judicial decisions for months past is liable to be attacked.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has called a halt on the "offensive partisan" business, so the dispatches say. The boys began to take almost too keen an interest in his little joke. He had to stop somewhere.

A STORY comes from France that El Mahdi gave the English an opportunity to ransom General Gordon for the sum of £5,000, and the authorities refused to pay the money. It is probably a French duck.

A CLOUD of grasshoppers two miles wide and fifteen miles long and so thick as to obscure the sun is reported in the Mexican State of Coahuila. These are doubtless the fifteen-year locusts. They are getting uncomfortably close.

THE ex-Empress Eugenie wrote the following pathetic sentence in a private letter to Monsignor Goddard at Chiselhurst: "I am left alone, the sole remnant of a shipwreck which proves how fragile and vain are the grandeurs of this world."

THE battle of the Boyne was fought at Waterford, Ireland, yesterday. The battle of the Boyne is fought somewhere in Ireland every year, and occasionally in Canada and the United States. A perennial old scrimmage is the battle of the Boyne.

ROMAN NOSE, the bad Indian who has been fomenting trouble among the Cheyennes, is the same chief who corraled Gen. G. A. Forsyth, then on Gen. Sheridan's staff, on the Republican River, in the summer of 1868, and kept him besieged for nine days without food.

IT is reported that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild is bent on directing the course of the cyclone of reform so as to strike the Southern California coast amidships, and wreck the custom houses at Wilmington and San Diego. Avast there, ye land-lubbers! put an anchor out to windward—and be lively about it!

ATTORNEY-GENERAL GARLAND, after deliberating, at the request of Secretary Whitney, upon the case of the Dolphin, has reached the sage conclusion that the government is at liberty to "throw off" on John Roach without ceremony, and as though no contract had ever been made. This administration considers it a high duty to suppress the great ship-builder.

THE grand total of cholera cases in Spain since the inception of the epidemic is now reported at 30,000; deaths, 13,000. The dreadful disease appears to be increasing in extent and virulence. Four new localities were attacked yesterday, and the aggregate of deaths in the whole country for the single day was 667, with 1417 new cases reported. A countess is among the latest victims.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND, having concluded to let up on the poor "offensive partisan," found himself with an id'e day on his hands, and went a-fishing, along with the Vilas boy. That the President caught a string of fine black bass is no wonder. Such luck as he has, anyhow!

PROF. CHARLES KENDALL ADAMS, Professor of English Literature in Michigan University, has been elected President of Cornell. This is the second President whom Cornell has drawn from the Michigan institution, President White having been taken in the same way.

GENERAL DRUM says that 2,772,366 men enlisted in the Union army, including re-enlistments, and official statistics give 359,496 as the number who died in the service, but the statistician have not ventured an estimate as to the number of veterans who still survive. There were 1,000,516 men in the army at the end of the war, and the pension list now contains more than 300,000 names.

IT is authoritatively stated that the Cheyennes can put from 800 to 1,200 warriors on the war path in the event of an outbreak. Such a number of savages, on murder and rapine bent, would make it disastrous for all the cattle interest of Southern Kansas, Southeast Colorado and Northern Texas, besides causing the sacrifice of many, many lives. The Government is doing well to move promptly to prevent the Cheyennes from leaving their reservation.

A CONCLUSION which the logic of sporting events must have been forcing upon Eastern people for some time, is at last stated by the New York World. Commenting upon the success of California stables at all of the principal races of the season East and West, the World says: "Due credit must be given to the 'glorious climate' and the general superiority of the Pacific Coast during the winter months for the building up and development of horses for racing purposes." Just so. People of the Pacific coast have been cognizant of this fact a long time. And the same conditions which contribute to the development of the racer apply equally to the breeding of all fine stock. The TIMES has said it, and says it over again, that California will one day be as celebrated for its fine stock as for its fine fruits.

THE terrible revelations of the Pall Mall Gazette in regard to the systematic and extensive debauchment of young girls in London are so horrible and revolting as to make them past belief, were the evidence less strong and specific. The facts developed and published are inexpressibly sickening, and it can be truly said that these criminal and disgraceful revelations in the social life of the greatest capital of Christendom have roused the world. We express the deliberate opinion that the Pall Mall Gazette newspaper is to-day engaged in fighting one of the grandest battles for morality, civilization and humanity, as well as for national honor, that it would be possible for any journal or people to engage in. And may success attend its brave and righteous efforts! More power to the press when the press stands for the right!

HOUSES AND BRIDGES WASHED AWAY.

A Deluge of Rain, with Thunder and Lightning—Few Casualties, but Great Loss of Property.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., July 13.—A cloudburst occurred about one mile south of town this afternoon and the streams entering Oil Creek, near this city, rose to an unprecedented height. Many houses were moved from their foundations and several were washed away. A number of families had a narrow escape. Two bridges went down creek and the roads were badly washed. No loss of life, but damage to property is very great.

FEARFUL STORM AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, July 13.—Shortly before dark this evening the Alleghany Valley was visited by one of the most disastrous storms known in that section. Rain fell in torrents for an hour. The wind blew a hurricane, and thunder and lightning were incessant. Reports of great damage have been received from various points along the Alleghany River between here and Titusville. At Harmarsville lightning struck the telegraph office, killing instantly James McFeeders, a student aged twelve, and rendering unconscious the operator, Miss Mary Hazlet. The building was partially wrecked.

At Prosport four inches and a half of rain fell in an hour, flooding cellars, yards and streets, and covering the West Pennsylvania and Butler branch railroads with water to a depth of several feet. The track in some places was washed away, and in others debris was piled five feet high. Trains were stopped everywhere. At Ditso's station a freight train ran into a landslide and was badly wrecked. Peters Creek, near Loechburg, is swollen beyond its banks and numerous gas and oil derricks have been washed down the stream. Kirkpatrick's steel plant at Lecshburg is under water, and the loss will reach many thousands of dollars. The damage to grain and hay alone, in this and surrounding districts, will amount to an enormous sum.

FOR SUBSIDY.

Mercantile Bodies Come to the Rescue.

NEW YORK, July 13.—At a meeting of the Maritime Exchange to-day a number of communications from various commercial organizations were submitted, in response to a memorial adopted by the Exchange, recommending subsidy as a means to revive American shipping.

The New York Board of Trade favored the plan.

The San Francisco Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce and Manufacturers' Association offered a this joint report, recommending Congress to provide a direct bounty to builders of iron and steel vessels in foreign and Pacific trade, to make provision for carrying American mails in American built iron and steel steamers, to establish a permanent Bureau of Commerce, similar to the British Board of Trade, to enact an appreciative system; to build twenty-five war steamers for the navy; and, if Congress refuse to pay bounties, asks to permit the purchase of foreign built vessels as an experiment for five years. The Boston Manufacturers' Association approved the Maritime Exchange plan.

The Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce were in favor of the system similar to the French bounty.

The Minneapolis Board of Trade was not satisfied that subsidies would accomplish the object at least until other means had been tried.

Pacific Mail will Withdraw.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company intends to withdraw its steamers from the line between this city and Australia on November 1st, according to a statement to be published in to-morrow's CALL. The steamship company's contract with the Australian colonies expires on that date, and the colonists declare they will not renew the contract by which they pay the steamship company a subsidy, unless the United States agrees to pay a portion of it. The recent decision of Postmaster General Vilas not to use any part of the four hundred thousand dollars appropriated by the last Congress to assist in the transportation of mail is said to have determined this course of action of the Pacific Mail.

Mailed by a Runaway.

CORVALLIS, Ore., July 13.—A distressing runaway accident occurred to-day, resulting in the instant death of Mrs. Drummond, of Corvallis, Cal. Mrs. Drummond had been visiting relatives in the county and city for six weeks, and had just started in a buck to her father's. The team became frightened at a handcar and ran away. After running about a block the buck turned over, killing Mrs. Drummond outright. Shortly before the buck turned over she handed her babe to Wilds Taylor, the driver, and both escaped unhurt. The deceased had been married less than a year. The husband is expected on the steamer arriving to-morrow night.

Still Improving.

MT. MCGREGOR, July 13.—Dr. Douglas said this morning that General Grant had passed a good night. The General went through the night with little or no exercise, and this morning was bright and his spirits improved, as has been the case every Monday for four weeks. The sick man is taking food plentifully; has swallowed his liquid nourishment to-day without apparent pain. His voice is clearer and stronger, and his pulse has greater volume than yesterday.

A Deliberate Suicide.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 13.—Fred. Boehnert, an upholsterer, to-day left his home, and accompanied by his little son, went to one of the lodges of the Red Men's order, where he obtained some money. With this he purchased a revolver. He then sent his son home and proceeded to the public square, where he blew his brains out. Continued illness is said to have been the cause for the rash act.

Complications from His Insanity.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—It is believed that great complications may arise through the insanity of Judge Clough, who was committed to the Stockton Insane asylum Saturday last. Prominent lawyers express the opinion that very many, if not all, of his decisions for months past may be upset, and parties to all cases so affected will be involved in interminable litigation and annoyance before a readjustment can be reached.

The Grain Outlook.

CHICAGO, July 13.—The official statement of the Board of Trade shows grain in sight in the United States and Canada on the 15th, and increase or decrease over the preceding year as follows: Wheat, 40,044,723 bushels, decrease 558,530 bushels; corn, 5,038,027 bushels, decrease 258,510 bushels; oats, 2,707,942 bushels, decrease 91,413 bushels; rye, 210,199 bushels, decrease 2923 bushels; barley, 111,758 bushels, increase 2737 bushels.

The Wild West Attached.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 13.—A deputy sheriff went to Norwalk this afternoon and attached Buffalo Bill's Wild West show for $26,000 on two actions, one of $10,000 for damages for breaking up Carver's show, and one for $16,000 for the malicious arrest of Dr. Carver at Williamantic. The Cody party furnished bonds.

Elected President of Cornell.

A Riot.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 13.—A riot is reported on the line of the Island railway between white and Chinese laborers. Three Chinese are reported killed. The police have gone to the scene.

WASHINGTON.

Calling a Halt in the Slaughter of Offensive Partisans.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Evening Star gives prominence to the following: The President has called a halt. A little over a week ago an order went out to all departments that all dismissals and appointments to fill places not vacant must stop at once. A week ago a stop was put to all work in the appointment division in the Treasury Department and the appointment clerk was told that no more commissions were to be made out or papers considered until further orders. A lot of changes that were contemplated by him were killed in their inception. A gentleman who called on the President was given to understand that the offensive partisanship cry had become too indefinite in its meaning and that no more changes in his official force were to be made until there was a thorough understanding on the subject. The result was that orders for a number of changes in the pension office were countermanded and everything put at a standstill. The President then had an understanding with the heads of the postoffice and other departments, declaring his policy to be to stand by the civil-service reform declarations in his letter to Curtis and in his address on the 4th of March. Removal for cause, he held to mean that, and not removal with excuse. The result is that the axe has been stuck in the block and is still there. How far the thing is to go, can merely be surmised, but it is true that the President is decidedly in earnest, and does not intend that his declarations shall be ignored.

CAUGHT A STRING OF FISH.

The Presidential party returned tonight from their fishing trip to Woodmont. The party were in excellent spirits, and all agreed with Postmaster-General Vilas, who said that they had had a magnificent time. The President caught a fine string of black bass. To-day (Sunday) was passed quietly at the club house.

THE TRAIL OPEN.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Inspector Armstrong has succeeded in carrying out his instructions to open up the cattle trails through the Indian Territory. He has telegraphed Secretary Lamar, stating that all differences between drovers and ranchmen have been settled, and that cattle from Texas are now moving north without obstruction.

COURT-MARTIALED.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Lieutenant-Commander W. H. Webb, connected with the Alert on her Asiatic station, has been tried by court-martial on the charge of drunkenness, and found guilty. The court recommended that he be suspended from rank and duty on furlough pay for two years, and that he retain his present number on the list of Lieutenant Commanders during that time. The recommendations were approved by Rear-Admiral Davis, June 30. Webb has been ordered to the United States in the Juniata.

ANOTHER HARPOON AT THE DOLPHIN.

Attorney-General Garland has rendered a decision on three points relative to the acceptance of the Dolphin by the government, submitted to him by Secretary Whitney. The Attorney-General holds that the vessel cannot be accepted; that no contract exists between John Roach and the government, and that the large sum of money paid him for the vessel may be recovered.

FAVORABLE FOR A SETTLEMENT.

The War Department is in receipt of dispatches from the Indian Territory, which say that the disaffected Indians are becoming quiet and that there is a favorable outlook for a settlement of the Indian difficulty.

BREADFUL RAVAGES.

Total of Deaths from Cholera Since the Beginning—A Countess Victim.

MADRID, July 13.—There were 1417 new cases and 667 deaths from cholera reported in Spain yesterday. Cholera has broken out in four places in the province of Joen. Forty-two new cases were reported yesterday in the province and 18 deaths from this disease. Another report shows a total of 30,000 cases in Spain since the inception of the scourge up to last evening and a total of 120,000 deaths.

A COUNTESS PASSAGES.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Herald's Madrid special says the death of Countess Romero from cholera is the first case in Madrid among people of means and position, and living in a good neighborhood. The Countess's death was within an hour after returning from the theater, and was of a violent type of cholera.

A LION AND A LAMB.

How an Anarchist Defied the Law.

CLEVELAND, July 13.—The strikers held a meeting in Newburg this afternoon. William J. Gorsouch, editor of a socialistic sheet in Chicago, was present and made a speech. He advocated theft, arson and murder, saying the rich had no right to hold property. He grew very excited and defied the police, State authorities and finally the Federal government, saying he would fight like a tiger if any one attempted to arrest him. While he was making these sentiments a policeman was quietly making his way toward the platform. When Gorsouch stopped for a minute to wipe his brow the policeman tapped him on the shoulder, and he meekly permitted himself to be taken to the police station and locked up. He is 33 years of age, and was charged with using language to incite a riot. He arrived here this morning from Pittsburg.

Murder in Cajon Pass.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 13.—A young son of Henry Coombe was murdered last night in Cajon Pass, on the extension of the California Southern railroad. Coombe keeps a small liquor stand, and having business elsewhere left young Coombe in charge. This morning seven men stopped for a drink, and finding no one astir entered the tent, and found the body of young Coombe on a bed with a bullet-hole in the head. The boy had a considerable amount of money in the tent, and it is supposed was robbed and killed by Chinese working on the road.

Can't Raise the Ship.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The fourth attempt to raise the ship Earl of Dalhousie, which capsized and sank in the bay two months ago, was made to-day, and proved a failure. The contract for the performance of this work expires on Wednesday next. It is stated that the Union Iron Works, which undertook the contract, has expended thus far about $15,500, which, together with the bonds of $44,000, will be a loss to the contractors, now that failure has resulted from all their efforts to bring the Dalhousie to the surface.

Be Conroy's Course Unsatisfactory.

PARIS, July 13.—The Matin says the recall of General De Conroy, commander of the French forces in Annam, is probable. The Matin declares that the government is averse to the severe penalties ordered imposed on the Annamites by De Conroy, and is also opposed to his policy of continuing war in Annam for the purpose of the punishment which the French commander insists is necessary in order to intimidate the people from ever again attempting a revolution against French authority.

Hog Cholera.

MERCED, Cal., July 13.—William Ellison, a colored farmer on Dry Creek, this county, lost lately by cholera 319 hogs. A neighbor named Morgan, only a few miles distant from Ellison, out of a band of 500 hogs saved but 70, disease sweeping off 430 in a few days. Hog cholera prevails to an alarming extent along the foothills of Merced, Mariposa, Tuolumne and Stanislaus counties.

Commerce of the United States.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Journal of Commerce this morning prints the following statement of the commerce of the United States for the first eleven months of the past fiscal year: Imports, $670,396,000; exports, $731,584,000; excess exports, $161,385,000. June returns will probably show a further moderate excess of exports.

Tried to a Horse.

SALT LAKE, Utah, July 13.—This morning at Farowan, Utah, Edgar A., son of Charles Lyman, eleven years old, was tied upon a horse and sent after cows. The horse came home, the cords holding the boy under his body, where he had slipped and been kicked so that he died on being untied from the horse.

General Wolseley Arrives.

LONDON, July 13.—General Wolseley arrived here this afternoon. The Victoria railway station was crowded with soldiers, officers and civilians, and the General was given an enthusiastic welcome.

HOUSES AND BRIDGES WASHED AWAY.

A Deluge of Rain, with Thunder and Lightning—Few Casualties, but Great Loss of Property.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., July 13.—Acloud burst occurred about one mile south of town this afternoon and the streams entering Oil Creek, near this city, rose to an unprecedented height. Many houses were moved from their foundations and several were washed away. A number of families had a narrow escape. Two bridges went down creek and the roads were badly washed. No loss of life, but damage to property is very great.

FEARFUL STORM AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, July 13.—Shortly before dark this evening the Alleghany Valley was visited by one of the most disastrous storms known in that section. Rain fell in torrents for an hour. The wind blew a hurricane, and thunder and lightning were incessant. Reports of great damage have been received from various points along the Alleghany River between here and Titusville. At Harmarsville lightning struck the telegraph office, killing instantly James McFeeders, a student aged twelve, and rendering unconscious the operator, Miss Mary Hazlet. The building was partially wrecked.

At Prosport four inches and a half of rain fell in an hour, flooding cellars, yards and streets, and covering the West Pennsylvania and Butler branch railroads with water to a depth of several feet. The track in some places was washed away, and in others debris was piled five feet high. Trains were stopped everywhere. At Ditso's station a freight train ran into a landslide and was badly wrecked. Peters Creek, near Loechburg, is swollen beyond its banks and numerous gas and oil derricks have been washed down the stream. Kirkpatrick's steel plant at Lecshburg is under water, and the loss will reach many thousands of dollars. The damage to grain and hay alone, in this and surrounding districts, will amount to an enormous sum.

Gambling.

Familiarity with crime has the tendency to make communities, no less than the individual, lose sight in a measure of its enormity. We find often lethargy and a sogginess of effort in the presence of evils that submits to their existence rather than take the steps necessary to their exterminations. There are many evils in regard to which public sentiment should be aroused, and against which the united voice of the community should be raised. Paramount among these is the great and growing sin of gambling, a vice more widespread in this country than that of intemperance, and working for its victims greater evil and demoralization. There is not a community of any size in this whole country where this vice has not become entrenched, and where it is not feeding and fattening itself upon its spoils. Nowhere, it is asserted, are gambling hells more numerous, and their patrons more relentless, unsparing and aggressive than in the larger towns and cities of republican America. The gambler, whose sole stock in trade is cunning and dexterity, and whose business it is to decoy his victim into dens where he can methodically plunder him, whose calling it is to live without labor, to beggar the industrious and to debauch the foolish, is surely a fit subject for legislative restraint and punishment. There is no vice that so hardens men, no crime against community that is so far-reaching in its evil influence, that so rapidly demoralizes and leads on to desperation and outrage as that of gambling. Dupe at first, the gambler may be, but it is not long before the dupe becomes the knave and the knave the bold and desperate criminal, robbing ruthlessly under the guise of "fair play," scattering wretchedness and ruin in every direction, yet expecting no public condemnation and no extreme punishment. The gambler and his associates in crime will combine together for self-protection. It is hard to prove anything against them. They are men of wealth, many of them; they aspire to office; money will buy influence for them in the court room; it will weaken the attacks of public condemnation; bribery is a weapon which they do not hesitate to use unsparingly, and in this way they are able to escape punishment. Beyond question there is a great laxity of law in regard to this evil of gambling. The measures adopted are not severe and stringent enough to secure its suppression. Public sentiment is not sufficiently pronounced and outspoken against it. Laws usually are the reflection of public sentiment, and they will go to the extent of that sentiment in determining the punishment of the criminal. When that sentiment is strong enough to demand that the professional gambler shall be declared an outlaw, and the gambler comes to know that just so sure as he is caught, the doors of our State prisons and penitentiaries will open to receive him, he will learn to be cautious, and there will be some check placed upon the evil of gambling. Fewer men in positions of trust and responsibility will yield to temptation If it only through severe measures that this growing vice can be eradicated. Fine and light imprisonment are not sufficient. It must be made a capital crime, and the convicted gambler must be made to stand before the world branded as a felon.

Olive Growing.

Among the profitable industries to which the climate and soil of Southern California are peculiarly adapted, that of olive growing should not be overlooked. The demand for the pure oil must always be great, and it is a fact well known to dealers that a strictly pure article is hardly obtainable among the various brands imported to this country. Adulteration is the rule, and already, in consequence, there has been a demand created for the olive oil of California far exceeding the supply. Ellwood Cooper, the pioneer among manufacturers in Southern California, has made it a rule to supply the markets of his own State in preference to t e larger markets of the East, and so great has become the demand in this State for the pure article manufactured by him that San Francisco, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara gladly take all that he can furnish. He has been earnestly solicited by dealers in New York, Philadelphia and other cities where samples of his oil have been sent to send at least a portion of his supply to these markets, but this he has steadily declined doing while the home demand was so great.

Olive culture is not difficult under the existing conditions found here, and the inducements offered our land owners to turn their attention in this direction are weighty and manifold. There can be no doubt whatever about a ready market for all the oil manufactured. The price is good, the labor of cultivation not great, the crop is usually sure, and the risk small.

The olive is most successfully grown from cuttings, which should be set in the usual form of about one hundred and twenty to the acre. It is estimated that an olive tree when ten years old is worth ten dollars, and the value advances as the years go by.

An olive grove is a valuable investment for our children, for the olive is more enduring than almost any other kind of fruit tree. There is no question but what the olive tree will thrive and yield abundantly in this region, and the demand for its fruit and oil is already good and constantly increasing. What farther inducements are needed to interest our farmers in this direction when all the conditions of success are supplied and the market constantly widening? Olive growing ought to become one of the rich and permanent resources of Southern California.

POMOLOGICAL.

Blue-Ribbon Essay of the Orange Convention.

SOME PRACTICAL VIEWS OF A GROWER.

Full Text of the Resolutions Passed--Kerbaval's Poem--General Notes The Fruit Exhibit.

Following is the essay on orange culture to which was awarded the Pomological Society's prize of $20 at the convention last Saturday. The writer is J. W. Sallee, a practical horticulturist of Pomona. There were two other contestants for the prize. The examining committee consisted of Dr. O. H. Congar of Pasadena, Milton Thomas of Los Angeles, and W. R. Whetherby of Orange:

The important points in citrus culture are:

1st. Climate.
2nd. Soil and water.
3d. Careful irrigation and cultivation.
4th. A healthy, vigorous tree to begin with.
5th. Careful planting and pruning at the beginning.
6th. Carefully guarding against injuries and disease.
7th. Subsequent pruning and fertilizing.

To accomplish these, then, the first thing is the location. The soil should be a deep, rich alluvium, formed from granite and limestone. A hard-pan subsoil should be avoided, while strata of sand and gravel are very objectionable. A red subsoil—commonly called clay in California—formed of disintegrated granite, well rotted, is best. A black or adobe subsoil is not good. The subsoil should be fine, but of that nature to allow water to pass freely through it. It should be deep and rich, with water not less than thirty feet from the surface.

SOIL FOR ORANGE GROVES.

The surface soil should be of a sandy nature so as not to bake after irrigation. Coarse sand and gravel are not objectionable on the surface, provided the subsoil is all right. A sediment surface is good; in fact my kind of soil easily pulverised. The surface of the country should have a southern exposure, and, better still, to be backed on the north by high hills; and should be comparatively free from winds and frost. The higher the locality the better. An altitude from 500 to 1600 feet is best. The granite soil along the base of the Sierra Madre Mountains is warmer and better suited for citrus culture than the soil of conglomerate formation between the foothills and coast. The low valley land is objectionable, and the interior is too much subject to frost.

In selecting a locality, be sure to have an abundance of water that can be relied upon for irrigation—at least one inch to every five acres of orange orchard. More will be needed when the orchard grows old.

NURSERY STOCK.

As but few who are engaged in citrus culture raise their own trees from the seed, I leave this subject to the nurseryman. Suffice it to say that any reliable nurseryman can be depended on as to variation, etc. But I prefer my own stock. I take buds of one year's growth on orange roots of four years' growth from seed. These trees are from four to six feet high and have a straight stem with no branches. This stem should not be cut when the tree is transplanted, for it makes a substantial center, from which you can form a beautiful and desirable tree without crotches. If seedling trees are desired, they too should have been cut off and a new bud grown similar to budded trees.

The land should be made as near level as possible; all unevenness scraped to the level; deep plowed and thoroughly pulverized.

THE BOARD.

Prepare for planting trees thirty feet apart, by setting small stakes exactly where you want the tree.

Then take a board four inches wide and four feet long with a notch in each end and one in the middle. Put this board with center notch in stake and put a stake in notch at each end, with face of board in same direction. Dig holes from 16 to 18 inches deep and 18 inches across, with center of hole directly under board. Put dirt on each side of line of stakes. Have trees removed with ball of dirt around roots, as nearly 18 inches long as you can get. Remove about two inches of the surface soil from the ball, cut all roots, especially tap-root, perfectly smooth. Handle so as not to break the dirt around the roots. When trees are to be moved a great distance, this ball should be sacked. Throw dirt enough into the hole prepared for the tree to bring the surface of the ball just even with the surface of the ground, when the tree is set in the hole.

HOW TOO DEEP.

This sets the tree two inches shallower than it was in the nursery. This is an important point. The tree will settle a little, and if set too deep, it will be no injury. This point I urge, for I have helped reset trees in after years that were planted too deep, and prevented a healthy growth. Put the board in place, notches in ends astride of stakes and set your tree to the center notch. Throw dirt into the hole to fill well, but do not pack, unless you cannot irrigate immediately afterward.

IRRIGATION.

The sooner you can irrigate after planting the better. Irrigate by running a furrow near the tree, and make a basin about five feet across around each tree. Use a small stream in each furrow and fill each basin from it. This is better than running water each side the tree, as it wets thoroughly and is not so apt to move the tree. In four or five days irrigate again, as the loose dirt may shrink away from the ball, and this irrigation fills all crevices. Cultivate well and irrigate, as the case may require, and, better still, to be backed on the north by high hills; and should be comparatively free from winds and frost. The higher the locality the better. An altitude from 800

Fine July weather prevailed. The drought is practically unbroken. The wheat crop is prospering, though other crops have been severely affected by the drought. The sales of English wheat during the week were 26,000 quarters at 34s, against 56,000 quarters at 36s 6d during the corresponding week last year. Foreign wheat is very quiet. In the off-coast market there is a moderate trade. Fifty cargoes arrived—ten cargoes were sold, ten were withdrawn and thirty-three remained, including nine of Californian and one of Oregon. To-day there were no inquiries for wheat, and values were nominal. The large number of arrivals of cargoes tends to depress the market. Flour is depressed and values were weaker. Corn was unchanged. Barleys were dull. Oats quiet.

The County Board of Education met in the County Superintendent's office at 10 a. m. Present, President W. M. McFadden, F. H. Howard, C. W. Moores, T. A. Saxon and J. W. Hinton.

Minutes of regular meeting in January and of special meetings since read and approved.

In organizing the new Board, balloting for President came first. F. H. Howard received three votes and F. H. Clark two, and Mr. Howard was declared President for 1885-86.

The Board then proceeded to consider the amendment to Rule IX, offered by Mr McFadden at the previous meeting. Mr. Clark offered the following substitute for Mr. McFadden's amendment and it was adopted:

SHAKELESS SIKENS.

A Car-full of Passengers Insulted and Scandalized.

A most disgraceful affair occurred on the train from Santa Monica to this city, Sunday evening. Cora Phillips, a fashionable bagnio-keeper, got on with three or four of her women, and a male partner. After the train started, they left their seats in the smoking car, and came into the forward car, among whose occupants were several well-known gentlemen of this city, with their wives and sisters. The Phillips was very drunk, and so were some of her companions. They tried to force themselves into seats with several estimable ladies of this city, but were snubbed. Their pimp made a show of being troublesome, but subsided rapidly after "vetoing up" the propositions of a stalwart conductor. They then fanded the ladies in his charge. The disreputable gang then went to another part of the car and got into a fuss with a gentlemanly clerk who refused to be insulted by them. He was met with all her abandoned vocabulary, vilified and cursed him all the way to this city, in terms which reached the lady passengers and annoyed them inexpressibly. In justice to the conductor it should be added that he was busy with eleven crowded cars, and did not see the disgusting exhibition. Those who were so unluckly as to be in the car are very indignant at Cora Phillips, and think the Sunday travel to Santa Monica will fall off decidedly if decent passengers are thus to be insulted on the cars.

A Fatal Bath.

Carmen Peña, a native Californian, 18 years of age, died suddenly at her home, corner of Alameda and Jefferson streets, Saturday, after a sickness of twenty-five or thirty minutes. Nettke, John S. McQuaid and Francisco Largo constituted the jury.

Hueneme Seen East.

The body of Mrs. E. M. Walsh was embalmed by the undertaking firm of McBratney & Howry, and forwarded yesterday to Rochester, N. Y.

Signor Farini.

Signor A. Farini, the celebrated operatic baritone and teacher from New York and especially from Boston, has arrived in California in search of health, and through the urgent request of some of his friends has paid Los Angeles a visit. He has been so completely captivated with Los Angeles and its climate that he has expressed a desire to return here if inducements could be made in his profession.

This is an opportunity for all our music-loving people to acquire a musical education such as has never before been offered them. It is well known that Signor Farini has brought out some of our best operatic singers, such as Isabel Thomas, Miss Blanche Roosevelt, Miss. Selika, Minnie Hauck, Harry Gates and many others. For further information inquire at Bartlett Bros.

A MORNING FIRE.

A Stable Burned, Horse Cremated and Cottage Damaged.

Shortly after three o'clock yesterday morning a fire was discovered in the stable on the vacant lot belonging to the Verandah saloon, at the junction of Downey avenue and San Fernando street. Switch engine No. 23, of the S. P. R. R., got to work at once, and the fire department also responded promptly. The stable was entirely consumed, with its contents, which included a bale of hay, a few chairs, a lot of advertising cards, some harness and a $150 horse, all the property of Patrick Quinn and Geo. Pepit, two Hazzarder men. The horse was burned to a cinder. The flames also communicated with the rear of the adjoining cottage, 27 Downey avenue, ruining the north half of it. It was the property of T. T. Gilliland, a boss carpenter on the S. P. R. R., and insured for $500. The damage to it and the household furnishings is covered by an insurance of $400. It is thought by some that the fire was set by a discharged employe of Mr. Quinn's.

Meeting of the Trades Council.

The Los Angeles Trades Council met in Painter's Hall Sunday afternoon. Eight labor societies were represented by forty delegates. The following resolutions were adopted and ordered published:

WHEREAS, The former employes of the Express have been locked out and their places filled by incompetent and unfair workmen, be it therefore

Resolved, That the action of the Printers' Union in withdrawing its members from the Express office is by the body fully endorsed, and that it is further the sense of the Trades Council that the support and hearty co-operation of this body is hereby tendered the Union printers in their present fight against an unwarranted reduction from 45 to 40 cents per 1000 ems, as heretofore paid by all first-class newspaper offices on the Pacific Coast, and we call upon all workingmen, Union men and others, to stand by the printers.

Resolved, That we fully indorse the petition to the City Council emanating from the Anti-Chinese Union demanding the removal of the Chinese beyond the city limits.

WHEREAS, There is a movement on foot to start a Union paper in the interest of organized Trades and Labor Unions and the wage-laborers of the Pacific Coast,

Resolved, By the delegates of the Trades Council, that we urge upon the various organizations which we represent that each and every member of our Unions do all they can to aid and assist in maintaining a paper in Los Angeles, California, and ask all laboring men to do the same.
A. VENEYRE,

"The Evening Union."

The Evening Union, daily organ of the Union printers now battling with the Express, issued its second number yesterday. It is a small but a full-fledged newspaper, now, with editorials, news, and local paragraphs. Its first year's organization was effected last night, by the election of W. B. Hardwicke as managing editor; George Hibbert, city editor, and Joseph B. Weston as business manager. The paper grows brighter steadily, and tells some truths that bite. It is not yet definitely announced whether the "Union" is to be a permanent publication or not.
